

FAITH AND SUCCESS

TK Berntsen

When someone asks me what the ultimate key to success and happiness is, my answer soon arrives on the concept of Faith. Usually, I present an argument of having Faith in both yourself and in God. But what is Faith?

A good definition of 'having Faith' is trusting in something or someone when you haven't yet seen the evidence. The most important Faith you can have, is of course in your Creator, God. The ultimate belief and Faith in God, is a complete confidence that everything in your life happens as it is supposed to, and will continue to do so, as it was preplanned by God. With such Faith, you will know that every event or situation you experience, was created for a specific purpose, to help you grow and ultimately fulfill your inner potential granted to you by God. Faith is simply knowing that God has a plan for you to fulfill your potential, and having confidence that everything that happens in your life is according to this plan.

So how does Faith lead to Success, you might ask. To achieve success, and the life of your dreams, you must first have total and undeniable Faith, in yourself and in God. Not only must you have Faith when life is good and you are strong, but also it is especially needed when life is tough and you are feeling down or challenged. For very specific reasons, humans have been given the ability to choose their destinies. Your choices in life determine your results in life. This is how Faith leads to Success. God placed every other creature on Earth in a very confined and predetermined place. You, on the other hand, were given the power of free choices, and thus have the ability to cocreate your own destiny with these powers given to you. By having Faith in God, and knowing that every event in your life happens as it is supposed to, you can make a choice in how to interpret those events, and a choice in how you let these events affect your life. By having Faith in yourself, and the powers given to you by God, you can make a choice in how to respond to the events. And from these choices comes the results in your life. And, please remember, Success is only a measure of the results you are getting in life.

The big question we are left with now, is whether you have the same definition of Success as God does?
